Dearest Mildred:

It is a comfort to know from your letter written on the 22nd and apparently not posted before the 28th has answered my anxious question as to whether or not you liked the Redon. It was associated with so many hours of waiting and watching by Edith during the last months of her life that I bought it from her French estate and have always destined it to you and Dumbarton. It is a deep happiness to know that you both like it and its association. Bless you my two for all the affection that lies between us and will till the end of time.

Yours ever

Trix

With deepest affection my dear
